

Curriculum vitae (C.V)

Personal statement

Name: Almahdi Alzaroukh Jaber Alnimr

Nationality: Libyan

Date of birth: 3/February/1978

Education

January 2017: Ph.D degree of cancer research at University of Leicester

September 2010: Master degree of cancer research at University of Newcastle Up on Tyne

June 2007: Higher diploma of pathology at University of Tripoli

October 2004: Bachelor degree of Veterinary medicine at University of Tripoli

Work experience

Lecturer at Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Tripoli, 2018-2022

Areas of expertise

- Histological examination of lung cancer
- Genomic analysis using qPCR, particularly point mutation and CNV detection
- Immunohistochemistry and immunocytochemistry assessment
- in situ hybridization techniques using ADC
- Tissue culture and drug toxicity assessment
- DNA extraction and cDNA generation

Conferences

NCRI conference (1- 4 November 2015 – Liverpool)

Publications

1. Analysis of MCL-1 copy number variation in Non-small cell lung cancer
2. Elevated temperature predisposes to impacted oil gland in sheep
3. The tail form of contagious ovine ecthyma in animals with review of literature of human oral and skin infection
4. Chlorpyrifos toxicity in sheep and effect of corchorus olitorius

Contact details

- Email: samaan782004@yahoo.com

- Mobile phone: +218925283899

+218915293899