

Samia Farrara

Tripoli, Libya

Email: Samia_Farrara@yahoo.com

Mobile: 00218916193036

Personal Summary

Having excellent research potential and ability to actively contribute to research projects goals. Able to interact with all researchers in a constructive, creative, and professional manner. Having an excellent communication skills and able to work in partnership with a range of organization and can demonstrate initiative, flexibility and high intension to details.

Education

Tripoli University for Medical Sciences.2004

- + Bachelor degree in Medicine and Surgery One year internship in Medicine and Surgery, Pediatrics, Family and Community Medicine, Burn and plastic Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics.2005 First part Libyan board in Anesthesia.2007

University of Denver.2012

- + Master's degree in Cell and Molecular Biology.
 - Lab Techniques: Immunofluorescence, Western blot, QPCR, and RNA isolation.

Work experience General Physician, Aboslem Trauma Hospital, May 2005-March 2009

- + Independently work in resuscitation room and Intensive care unit.
- + Highly skilled in intubation and inserting central and arterial lines
- + Working very well with different mood of mechanical ventilation. '

Teaching assistant, Tripoli University, June 2007-June 2009.

- + Independently taught two Biology lab per semester with 200 students in each
- + Presented curriculum for weekly classes
- + Dissecting mice and preparing tissue for microscopic examination.

Teaching staff, Tripoli University, July 2013-November 2015.

- + Independently taught the first and the second year medical students with 400 students every year. Lectures and discussions.

Activities and interest

-  Reading and write poem
-  Playing tennis
-  Listening to classical music
-  Volunteer at rural polyclinics